Investment philosophy

The Fund adopts a 'relative value' investment strategy to access a broad range of fixed income return sources. Ardea IM's investment approach focuses explicitly on relative pricing relationships between closely related government-linked securities which are generally low volatility in nature and unaffected by the direction of interest rates.

This involves identifying securities (e.g. a government bond) that are mispriced relative to other closely related securities with similar risk characteristics which have potential for their prices to rise or fall independently of broader market direction. Profits can then be monetised when the mispricing corrects.

Ardea IM constructs portfolios with a large and diverse range of relative value positions combined with 'risk off' strategies that are specifically designed to profit in adverse environments. The strategy prioritises volatility control and capital preservation over chasing returns irrespective of risk.

Investment process

Step 1: Identify

Identify and understand pricing inefficiencies using proprietary analytics.

Step 2: Express

Express resulting RV mispricing by isolating and stripping out unwanted market risk.

Step 3: Package

Package together many small, independent RV trades to construct diverse portfolios.
